

License Key

Due to a license file error for CodeWarrior Learning Edition v.1.0 shipping with certain Computer Science textbooks, Metrowerks Academic Support Group has issued the following patch.

Please go to License path:

C:/Program Files/Metrowerks/CW LearningEdition/license.dat

Once you open the license file, cut and paste the license key below exactly as it appears. Paste this key over the existing one with the 31-aug-2001 expiration date.

This will unlock the CodeWarrior Learning Edition v.1.0 tools until 30 June 2002. In the meantime the Academic support group would like to offer a specially discounted upgrade price of $75.00 to CodeWarrior Pro 7 Academic. This latest release of CodeWarrior supports C, C++, and Java.

Some of the features shipping with CodeWarrior Professional Release 7 Academic include:

Windows/NT:

Multimedia and programming tutorials get you up to speed quickly
Improved ANSI C++ standard conformance- Strict adherence to standard helps students learn programming
Improved Compiler Optimizations- Produces the fastest tightest code anywhere.

Mac OS:

Support for multiple platforms - Mac OS 8.6, Mac OS 9.x, and Mac OS X

Support for multiple targets - Classic Mac, Carbon, Native Mac OS X and Java™

Cross-development capabilities between Mac OS and Windows systems.

CodeWarrior opens the door to other opportunities. The world of programming is expanding, and CodeWarrior enables students to explore these new frontiers. There are versions of CodeWarrior for developing software for the Palm Computing Platform (including PalmPilot PDAs), the Sony PlayStation game console, as well as a host of embedded systems targets. Academic pricing is available for most of these CodeWarrior Products, opening up a whole new world of opportunity for your students.
