

Robert W. Jones

Bob Jones is a management and training consultant specializing in team development and communications. He has extensive training experience in communication skills, leadership, creativity, and managing organizational change.

Before joining McLuhan & Davies, Bob served as Vice President of Management Development at Marine Midland Bank in Buffalo. He also worked as an international lending officer in Chase Manhattan's Commodity Finance Division in New York City.

Bob has spent much of his life living and traveling abroad in Jamaica, Cuba, Uruguay, Italy and Canada. He speaks Spanish, French and Italian.

He is an active fund-raiser for Cornell University, and has been on the boards of various local schools and organizations. Bob leads The Skilled Presenter™, Think on Your Feet® and Facilitating Learning™ programs for McLuhan & Davies.

He manages the firm's activities in the Northeast United States from regional headquarters in upstate New York. In addition to his work with McLuhan & Davies, Bob regularly delivers Myers-Briggs Type Indicator workshops and is a colleague of the Creative Education Foundation.

MBA Finance/Marketing/International Market Development – Cornell University
BA History/Modern Languages – Denison University